SOCIETY EDITOR.

Everyone is inclined to be more or less charitable especially during the Lenten season. Society has always shown considerable interest in St. Luke's home and the donation for Wednesday afternoon will undoubtedly very materially start the thousand dollar fund for the administration building. Anyone at all interested is asked to be present, to inspect the home and its scientific care of those afflicted with tuberculosis. The woman's board in giving its annual tea is again advocating that which it has constantly sought to advance—obtaining the deep personal interest of the Phoenix residents in the work carried on at the home. For this reason not only St. Luke's will be open to the public but special laboratory demonstrations will be made. Automobiles will meet the east Washington cars and conduct the guests to the home where they will be received by the board of lady visitors, including Mrs. E. J. Bennett, chairman, Mrs. B. A. Fowler, Mrs. Dwight H. Heard, Mrs. Herbert Atha, Mrs. Edward Kent, Sr., Mrs. W. G. Hartranft, Mrs. Joseph Kibbey, Mrs. Gordon Tweed, Mrs. F. M. Murphy of Prescott, Mrs. Walter Talbot, Mrs. Anell Martin, Mrs. Leo Goldman, Mrs. George Helm, Mrs. H. B. Wilkinson, Mrs. Charles Van Der Veer, Mrs. E. J. Gillett, Mrs. J. Elliot Walker and Miss C. M. Gilchrist.

The athletic contingent of the Country club, especially tennis devotees are rejoicing in the glorious spring days which mean more practice, more enthusiasm and round robin tennis for Saturdays a certainty. It was the ambition of a few lovers of the out door game to make it as popular a feature of the club as the weekly auction and tea and they have not only succeeded in this but have made the Tuesday tennis luncheon notable on the weekly social calendar. They will hold an equally important place as the days become warmer for the game will take precedence of the luncheon and many will motor from town and join the players at tea or remain to dine. Miss Ruth Ainsworth has done much to arouse the interest of the girls and young nations in tennis. She is an exceptionally splendid player and, no one was surprised when she won the ladies' handicap singles although Mrs. Gordon Tweed put up a strong game. Miss Ainsworth also carried off the honors in the ladies' doubles playing with Mrs. Anell Martin.

The Smith Family will give a series of "rag" dances this spring the success of the recent event has led to arrangements being made for another affair next week, either on the seventeenth or the twentieth. However popular the dances are or might be, no one cares to claim credit for their origin, the high school most emphatically disclaims being sponsor for the rag dances. Be that as it may the high school students were the organizers of the Smith Family of a season or two ago and last week's dance was the first event given this year. The younger set did not predominate in the guest list but several were included among those present.

Mrs. William M. Brownbeck and her charming daughters, Miss Helen Brownbeck and Miss Emily Brownbeck made Mrs. J. C. Adams the guest of honor at a dinner dance at the Agave Thursday. It was a beautifully appointed affair, a profusion of delicately toned pink carnations and ferns were used in decoration and the table's centerpiece was particularly graceful in its arrangement. At the dinner were Mrs. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Foster H. Rockwell, Mrs. Laurence Holden, Mrs. Royal Lescher, Tom Trent, Robert Beardsley, Stephen Jennings, Keith Pickrell, Charles Bargeman and William Humphreys. Additional guests joined the little party and "rag" completed the evening's pleasures.

Mrs. M. E. Morlin of North Second street was among those who gave informal affairs for Mrs. John Herndon during her recent visit here. Mrs. Morlin was an auction hostess.

Miss Florence Webber was charmingly entertained at the Adams by Miss Martha Hogsett following the performance of "Naughty Marietta." Mrs. Lundy and Jack Thornton were included among the guests.

To give pleasure to the many interested in her and her career, Miss Alice Redewill will give a concert on Easter Sunday at the Arizona School of Music. More than five hundred cards have been issued and the brilliant young pianist is desirous in making the invitation general and all who care to hear her will be given opportunity on this occasion, her last appearance before her return to Paris, April 12. The program will include compositions of Bach, Beethoven, Schumann, Chopin and Liszt. Miss Helen Hubert Boyle, soprano, will assist. Miss Redewill was the soloist at the initial concert of the Singers' club when she received an enthusiastic ovation and since then she has been urged repeatedly to appear in public. The Easter event is being eagerly anticipated and all society will be dressing a charming coterie. Miss Ruth Dorris, Miss Eleanor Lewis, Miss Mabel Hooker, Miss Rena Dorris, Miss Mary Louise Cravens and Miss Mary Lewis will act as ushers and the guests will be received by Mrs. Augustus Redewill, Mrs. Francis H. Redewill, Mrs. Eugene Riviere Redewill and Mrs. Victor Redewill.

Mrs. Francis H. Redewill, whose concert was announced for March has postponed the event, which will be notable of April 16.

Another musical event that is being eagerly anticipated is the special service at Trinity Pro-cathedral on the evening of Palm Sunday when Sir John Stainer's "Crucifixion" will be sung. The music written for quartet, chorus, male quartet, tenor and baritone is exceedingly beautiful and will be artistically interpreted. Maltland Davies and John Armstrong will be the soloists.

The tennis luncheon at the Country club Tuesday was largely attended, and in the afternoon many motored out for tea. Among those present were: Mrs. Louis H. Chalmers, Mrs. William M. Seabury, Mrs. Charles McArthur, Mrs. Isaac Taft Stoddard, Mrs. Anell Martin, Mrs. Gordon Tweed, Mrs. W. Bennett Gough, Mrs. Robert Peabody, Mrs. Howard Reed, Mrs. R. H. Kennedy, Mrs. E. J. Bennett, Mrs. Fen S. Hildreth, Mrs. Royal Lescher, Mrs. John Dennett, Mrs. W. K. James, Mrs. Homer King, Miss Ruth Ainsworth, Miss Florence Bartlett, Miss Selma Goldberg, Miss Helen Brownbeck, Miss Ellen Conway, Miss Ruth Jessop and Miss Carol Selig.

Mrs. J. W. Crenshaw of North First avenue, was hostess of the Quatro club Thursday when Mrs. Evansbury scored highest at auction. Mrs. Harry Kay substituted for Mrs. Isaac Taft Stoddard.

Miss Louise Ro's of Parker passed the early week in town the guest of Mrs. J. B. Gillespie of 1408 North Third street.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fowler Gardner of North Central avenue are being congratulated upon the birth of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kay of North Second avenue were hosts of the Lunas club Monday evening.

Miss Florence Weedon, who passed a few days in town, is returning to Florence this evening.

Mrs. Kirke Moore will arrive from Tucson this week for the remainder of the legislative season.

The congenial coterie that makes up the membership of the Eniv club was delightfully entertained Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rinehart of the Mission Apartments. Miss Elsie Munger, Miss Hildegard Hubbard, Sam Wilson and Charles Latham were the honored guests.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald Robinson of Winslow are the guests of Mrs. C. C. Hutchinson of 618 North First avenue. They arrived from California yesterday and will pass a short time in town.

Mrs. Royal Lescher of North Second avenue and her mother, Mrs. C. R. Bosche, of Buffalo, who has been her guest this winter will leave this week for a brief absence to be passed at Castle Hot Springs.

Miss Abbie Pickrell whose long absence abroad has been regretfully noted arrived in Rome last week after an interesting month in Egypt.

The Wednesday Auction club was entertained by Mrs. Thomas Higley of North Central avenue, and as usual the event was one of the week's most pleasurable affairs. Mrs. Jack Rinehart made the highest score and the substitutes were Miss Hildegard Hubbard and Miss Elsie Munger.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Seabury of North Central avenue recently presided over an exquisitely appointed dinner, their guests being Mrs. Gordon Tweed, Right Reverend Julius W. Atwood, Bishop of Arizona, James Westervelt and Allan Westervelt.

Miss Florence Bartlett will be the incentive for a luncheon at the Country club Wednesday when Miss Ruth Ainsworth will entertain the tennis contingent.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rinehart were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Green Monday evening at their country place on the south side.

Stephen Goodman has gone to Los Angeles for a few weeks.

Mrs. John Herndon who was the guest of Mrs. Henry D. Ross of North Central avenue for a fortnight left Friday for Castle Hot Springs where she will pass a short time en route for her home in Prescott.

Miss Elizabeth Goldwater will be among the delightful visitors here this season arriving from New York Monday. She will be the guest of Mrs. Barry Goldwater, of North Central avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Steward, of 627 North Second avenue, who were the hosts of Governor Herbert Hadley during his stay in Arizona gave an exquisitely appointed luncheon Tuesday in honor of their distinguished guest. The national colors were used to carry out an effective decorative scheme. Miss Fay DeMund supervised the arrangements which were charming in every detail. The centerpiece brought out the red, white and blue suggestion in the great bowl of beautiful blossoms, carnations, sweet alyssum and violets, which was accentuated in the shaded lights. Strands of smilax with carnations intermingled ran the full length of the table and at either end were great brass candles shaded in the predominating tones. The guests found their places by the cards that skillfully brought out some pet hobby or characteristic of the guest. Especially clever was that of Governor Hadley, the little sketch and wording was emblematic of his attitude at the Chicago convention. Governor Hunt's card depicted a prison reform scene and the Master Builder with a bank and city hall in the background was, of course, Mayor Christy. Those who enjoyed Mr. and Mrs. Steward's hospitality were Governor Hadley, Governor and Mrs. George W. P. Hunt, Mayor and Mrs. Lloyd Christy, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Perry DeMund, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Weatherford, Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Diehl and Mrs. E. E. Pascoe.

In celebration of the ninth birthday of their daughter, Miss Ethelreda Seabury, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Seabury of North Central Avenue gave a picnic to Paradise Valley on Wednesday. Paul Renau Ingles, Allan Westervelt and James Westervelt of New York motored out and passed the day with the young folk. Included in the party were Miss Angela Marshall, Miss Sylvia Lewis, Miss Muriel Seabury, Bernard Dysart, Palmer Dysart and Elspenard Seabury.

The "Juniors" are enjoying the delightful spring days and picnics play a prominent part in their pleasures. Yesterday a jolly party passed the day at Squaw Peak, among whom were Miss Ruth Goldberg, Miss Marion White, Miss Adeline Plath, Miss Elizabeth Jones, Miss Louise Croft, Miss Winifred Waite, Miss Helen Plath, Miss Maud Stewart, Miss Lucy Wilson, Miss Ruth Benedict, Ross Lyall, Harold Goldberg, Hubbard Fuqua, Harold Lount, Ernest Tweed, William Gough, Russell Linebarger, William Jones, Walden La Tourette, George Blending and Chester Goldberg. Mrs. Ralph Bailey chaperoned the affair.

Joe Cassou gave a theater party at the Elks Wednesday evening followed by a supper at Sings in honor of Miss Charlotte Chaffee and Miss Alice Chaffee. Besides the complimented guests Mr. Cassou entertained Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rowlands, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Page, George Morse, Stanhope Murphy, Morris Carpenter and Joseph Trotter.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rice (Norma Sweeney) have returned to San Francisco after a delightful fortnight in Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. Celora Martin Stoddard of 801 North First Avenue returned from Philadelphia Thursday.

Miss George Bailey will arrive from Jerome Junction this morning where she passed a week the guest of the Nell Baileys. Her visit in northern Arizona was preceded by a month on the coast.

Miss Ruth Dorris and Miss Rena Dorris gave a charming affair Wednesday afternoon when they entertained four tables of guests at their West Jefferson street home. Miss Mabel Hooker made the highest score at auction and the guest prizes were awarded Miss Charlotte Chaffee and Miss Alice Chaffee.

Mrs. E. T. Collings and Mrs. Arthur Gibbons Hulet, have sent out cards for Thursday when they will entertain with a luncheon followed by auction at the Woman's club in honor of Mrs. Mary Lowe and Mrs. T. K. Elvey.

A marriage of interest to Phoenixians took place in Los Angeles the past week when Miss Kate Edmondson, daughter of Mrs. M. E. Edmondson became the bride of Lawrence T. Stevens. Mrs. R. E. Scott left a short time ago and was present at the wedding of her son to the former Phoenix girl which was quietly celebrated at the Grace church. Mr. Stevens has not visited here in some time but he has a host of friends who pleasantly recall him. The young people will make their home in San Francisco where Mr. Stevens has headquarters as a branch manager of a musical manufacturing company.

Mrs. C. C. Hutchinson, of North Central avenue, was a luncheon hostess Wednesday in honor of Mrs. R. H. Ryder of Pekin, Ill., and Mrs. John Herndon of Prescott. Daffodils combined with violets made an effective table centerpiece and fluffy bows of yellow tulle added to the artistic arrangement. Although one of the small events of the week it was one of the most enjoyable.

In honor of Mrs. John Herndon, Mrs. B. A. Pickas of 911 West Washington Street gave a prettily appointed luncheon on Monday. Violets were artistically arranged as a centerpiece and hand painted cards featuring the flower, marked the places. The guest list included Mrs. Herndon, Mrs. Henry D. Ross, Mrs. Richard E. Sloan, Mrs. Guy Bennett, Mrs. Walter Talbot, Mrs. J. Elliott Walker, Mrs. W. K. James and Mrs. J. B. Hooker.

Miss Winifred Lawrence, of Los Angeles, will be the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Guy H. Lawrence Easterweek.

CLUB NOTES

The Parent Teacher association of Osborn district presented an unusually good program to a large audience of mothers at the meeting in the school auditorium on Wednesday afternoon, the president, Mrs. Daniel F. Jantzen presiding.

An interesting paper on "The Home Library," was read by Mrs. J. A. Cook, in which an excellent list of books, suitable for children was suggested. "Every child should have its own bookshelf," said Mrs. Cook, "and parents should select the books as carefully as they select associates for their children." By unanimous vote it was decided to have Mrs. Cook's paper published, so that not only those present, but other mothers might have the benefit of its wise suggestions.

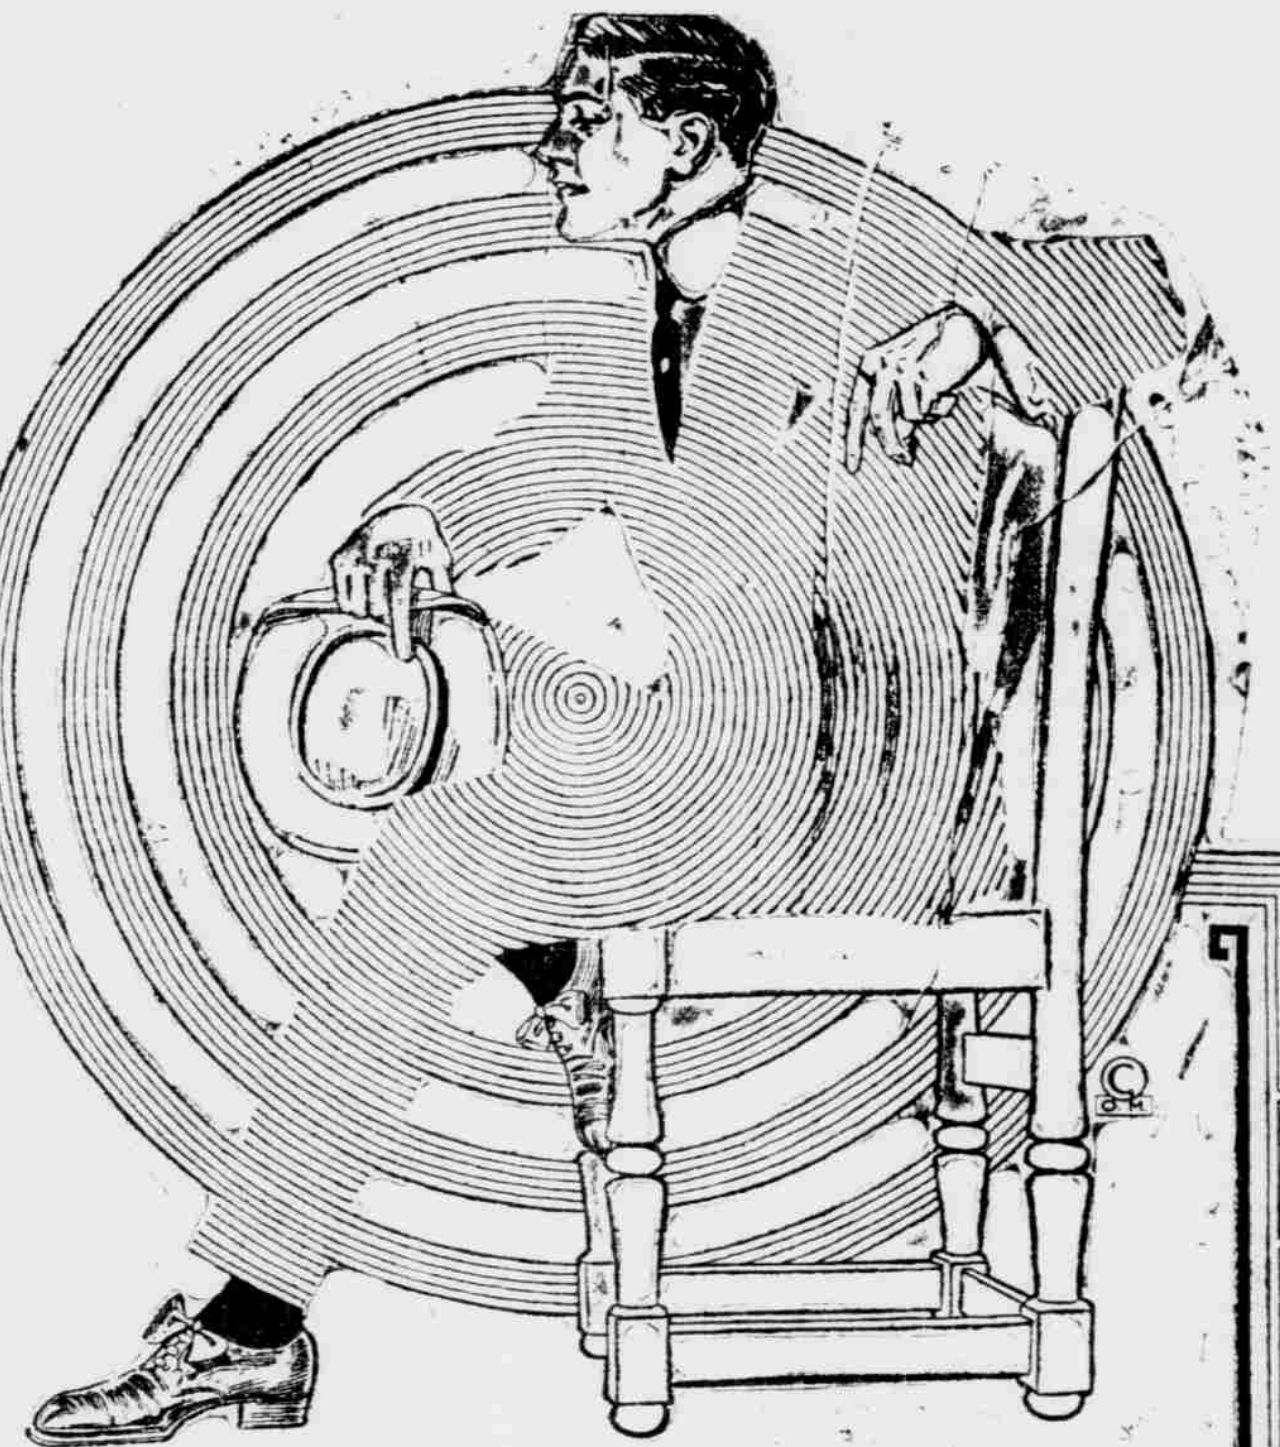

"The School Library" was discussed by Mrs. Dwight B. Heard in an entertaining and instructive manner. The needs of the library were made clear, and the value of a good library to children in their school work. A general discussion followed, in the course of which a committee consisting of Mrs. Heard, Mrs. W. A. Wilson and Mrs. C. B. Wood was appointed to further consider the needs of the library and compile a list of suitable books to be submitted for approval to the board of trustees.

Miss Regina Hendrickson, teacher of music in Osborn school, read an ably written paper on "Music in Our Schools." "Hours devoted to the study of music is time invested not time spent," declared Miss Hendrickson. She conducted an interesting "Demonstration Drill," given by the pupils of the entire seventh grade, which was followed by several songs by the pupils.

During the social hour which followed refreshments were served and ten new members were added to the roll.

The next meeting is to be held at night in order to enable the fathers of the district to be present and a program of unusual interest is promised. The Osborn circle is making rapid strides toward carrying on social center work, nearly every one in the district taking interest in its social affairs and civic problems.

Mozart was the inspiration for the March recital of the Musicians' club, Monday afternoon at the Woman's club. The exceptionally well arranged program was prepared by Miss Bess Alexander and the musical numbers were preceded by a paper on the (Continued on Page Twenty-four.)
